Five New Teachers Named at Phillips

Phillips academy this week announced the addition of five new men to its faculty, who will assume their new duties with the opening of school this month. They are:

Robert Haskell Cory, Jr., of New York, N. Y., who received his degree from Phillips cum laude in 1932. He took his A. B. degree at Yale in 1936, being a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and was awarded his M. A. at Harvard after studying there during the 1936-37 school year.

He has taught for the past six years, four years at the Fountain Valley school in Colorado Springs, Colo., one year at the Scattergood refugee hostel in West Branch,

Buddies Serve Together At New Guinea Air Base

Pals in civilian life, and pals in the army as well, First Sgt. Aurel P. Tremblay and Tech. Sgt. H. Standish Perkins, now stationed at an advanced combat flying base somewhere in New Guinea, recently celebrated their fifteen years of comradeship together.

Both enlisted November 29, 1940, and they have managed to be assigned to the same outfits ever since, which is exceptionally good fortune in the army. Sgt. Tremblay, now first sergeant in the group headquarters of his organization, has worked with his buddy, who is in the officer's section of the personnel, as orderly and doing general clerical work. Both men who, incidentally, are sporting handle-bar moustaches, received promotions to sergeantcy on the high sea on their way to Australia.

Sgt. Tremblay, who took his Ph.D. at Geogretown, lives on Tower Hill in Lawrence. He played professional football in the '30s with the old Boston Redskins, and coached at Lawrence High from 1933 until he enlisted.

Stan Perkins, who resides at 48 Walnut avenue, held several tennis championships throughout the Merrimack Valley, and is equally talented in writing, some of his short stories and sketches having appeared in Liberty and the Satevepost. He attended Harvard university and various technical schools, and, before enlisting, worked with his father, doing electrical engineering at the Pacific mills.

The two men have a great many interests in common—sailing, skiing, and fishing.

Carnival Here Over Weekend

Fund Association Sponsors Block Dances, Ball Game

A gala Labor Day weekend for Andover people of all ages planning to stay in town over the holidays, is promised with the announcement of final plans for the Servicemen's Fund association carnival.

The program will begin Saturday evening at 8 with the first of two block dances at an area to be roped off on the Barnard street side of the town hall. Frankforts, coffee and soft drinks will be on sale at nearby booths, and there will be games of all kinds, including an African dodger booth outside the police station, with Officer David Gillespie in charge. Harold H. Phinney will furnish the music and act as master of ceremonies.

Sunday afternoon at 3:00, the Andover town team will meet the Malden Twilights, as noted elsewhere in this issue. Proceeds will go into the fund for aiding local servicemen.

Monday evening, another block dance will be held, with arrange-

Recruiting New State Guardsmen This Month

During the entire month of September, the local State Guard company and others throughout the state will conduct an intensive recruiting drive. All State Guardsmen whose work will permit will wear their summer uniforms during the week of September.

The local company will have two men at the court room in the town hall every weekday evening except Labor Day during the entire month. Each recruiting party will consist of an officer or non-com and a soldier acting as guard. The hours will be from 7:30 to 8:45 each evening.

Men will be on recruiting duty according to the following schedule: Sept. 1-4, Capt. H. Garrison Holt, commanding; Sept. 7-8, 1st Sgt. Hugo A. Parker; Sept. 9-10, Sgt. MacAskill; Sept. 11 and 13, Sgt. Miller; Sept. 14 and 15, Sgt. Kenneth Mozeen; Sept. 16 and 17, Cpl. Francis Kelly; Sept. 18 and 20, Cpl. Rody; Sept. 21 and 22, Sgt. Tompkins; Sept. 23 and 24, Cpl. Thorburn; Sept. 25 and 27, Lt. G. Clifford Emmons; Sept. 28 and 29, Lt. Kenneth S. Minard; and Sept. 30, Lts. Emmons and Minard. Lt. Emmons is handling arrangements for the drive.

Townies Tie, 4-4, With Grenier Nine

Questioned Decision Costs Locals Game

Before a capacity crowd of 1300, the largest seen here in years at any sports event, the Andover town team tied a strong Grenier Field team, 4 to 4, in a marathon fifteen inning contest at the playground last Sunday. Had the breaks been with the local nine all the way, the Townies would have won their thirteenth straight victory. As it was, Andover went through its fourteenth straight game without a defeat, the sequence being a tie, twelve straight wins, and Sunday's tie.

In only one game so far this season did any team score more runs than Grenier got across the plate Sunday, when Haverhill scored eight times in losing to Andover in a seventeen inning encounter.

Bob Burnham of the locals did a fine job Sunday, proving more than a match, pitching through all fifteen innings, for four Grenier hurlers, two of whom have seen service in the major leagues — Early of the Athletics and Martin of the Braves.

Experts Pleased With Local Canning Center

The local canning center in the Free church parish house has been working at near capacity all this week, with the first late-summer harvests becoming ready for preserving. More workers are needed, both because of the increased volume of canning, and the fact that many who formerly helped out at the center are now on vacation.

Prof. William Cole of Amherst college, who heads the canning project throughout the state by appointment of Governor Saltonstall, made an inspection of the local center last week and expressed himself as pleased with the facilities available. Miss Katherine Lawlor, home economics expert from Essex Aggies, and Mrs. Dean of Prof. Cole's staff, have also visited the canning center and commented favorably on its arrangements.

Possibly 1500 public school pupils will take up their studies again next Wednesday morning, when school bells will inaugurate a new study season. Enrollment figures at present are only approximate, since many families have moved into Andover this summer, and since a good number of older students will undoubtedly choose to remain on the jobs they have held all summer rather than return to their classes.

All the schools will operate at their usual hours with the exception of the Stowe and Jackson schools. Their hours have been changed to 9:00-11:00 and 1:00-3:15 to facilitate arrangements in the school cafeteria.

There will be many changes in the schools this year in teachers, curriculum and housing arrangements. The Bradlee school in Ballardvale will have its fifth and sixth grades open again after a lapse of several years, and a new teacher, Miss Mary McCarthy of Concord, N. H., will be in charge of those classes.

Another complication in the Bradlee setup will be the fact that its incoming first grade will probably be the largest in years, and classes may be so arranged that the first grade will be taught separately while the three higher grades will be grouped together. No definite arrangement can be made until actual attendance figures are available. A similar situation prevails in the North school, where about 12 pupils will study this year.

There has been a large turnover in school personnel which will be felt at the beginning of the year. Miss Ruth E. Westcott, elected in May, will take over the duties of Miss Edith Moreton as school nurse. Miss Louise Leupold of

Chemistry Teachers Meet at Phillips

Over the past weekend, members of the New England Association of Chemistry Teachers had a constructive four-day session at Phillips academy, where they convened for the first time in their five-year history.

The first of a series of meetings took place Friday evening, when Dr. Claude M. Fuess, school headmaster, extended the greetings of the school. Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., of Weston college, lectured on "Recent Developments in Color Photography."

The second session was held Saturday morning, when Dr. Albert C. Titus of the General Electric laboratory in Schenectady spoke on "What Does Industry Look for in the New Chemist?" Lieut. Joseph B. Eldredge spoke on "Chemistry and the Army Specialized Training Program," Donald Gregg of Amherst college presiding.

Principal speaker of the morning was Lawrence W. Bass, director of the New England Industrial Research Foundation, Boston, whose topic was "Applied Research in Wartime." Mr. Bass, highly praising the rapidity with which industry's facilities were converted to war production after Pearl Harbor, emphasized that research had played a key part in developing new articles and in finding ways of making well-known products from new materials. "When the war is ended, these same scientists will point the way to a prosperous future."

John A. Timms of Simmons college was chairman at the Saturday afternoon session, at which Bernard F. Proctor of M. I. T. spoke on dehydrated and compressed foods, Joseph Magnus on "Essential Oils as Strategic Materials," and Dr. C. R. Addinall of Merck and Company on the industrial development of vitamins and their importance as "strategic materials."

"The personnel of this country's fighting forces is the best ever, and the home, school and church are the three reasons," Col. Adelno C. Gibson, C. W. S., of the Army War college, stated at Monday morning's meeting. Col. Gibson has served in three U. S. wars.

As some of the contributions of chemistry to modern warfare, he cited the purification of water by portable units, the sulfa drugs, blood transfusions in the field, "and, of course, the airplane."

Touching on his own specialty, gas warfare, he stated that this country, at present, is prepared to use gas and "hand it back to the enemy in any quantity."

Other speakers were Col. Howard W. Robbins, deputy director of national Region One for the Office of Civilian Defense, and Major Eugene W. Scott, national gas officer for OCD, who spoke on the subject of gas and the use of gas masks by civilian defense workers in target areas.

Tuesday's program began with a lecture on "The Teacher's Secret Weapon" by Evan R. Collins of Harvard university. A textbook display arranged by publishers was viewed by the teachers present.

In the afternoon, following a tea in the Phillips Commons, a demonstration of war gases and smoke screens was staged in the rear of Samuel Phillips Hall by Dr. Eugene W. Scott, national gas officer of the Office of Civilian Defense, and Dr. Alberto Thompson, Jr., Region 1 gas officer for OCD, both U. S. Army majors.

POLICE BLOTTER

E. Burke Thornton and Reeve Chipman of Andover have been drawn for jury duty, Mr. Thornton for the civil session beginning at Salem, September 13, Mr. Chipman for criminal court in Lawrence beginning September 20.

The police department got an unusual request Tuesday morning, when State O.P.A. headquarters called up to request a motorcycle escort for one of their cars approaching Andover, loaded with millions of all kinds of ration stamps and a large amount of money. Officer David Gillespie met the car at the Lawrence line and escorted it along Main street to a point where it was picked up by a Reading policeman.

Robert Lawrence of Clark road, Ballardvale, has reported to the police the loss of the $5 gas tax stamp from an automobile belonging to Charles Lawrence, also of Clark road.

James Taylor, 43, an inmate at Tewksbury state hospital, was reported missing from there Saturday, and was located two days later in Cohasset and returned to the hospital.

Local police were scratching their heads this week over what a novelist might call "The Mystery of Shawsheen Square." Officer James Walker, coming on duty in the square early Monday morning—which was particularly foggy—noticed that the blinker was not flashing properly in the dummy in the square. Examining it, he found that the whole dummy had been moved bodily two feet straight up Main street. From marks on the dummy and ground, it had evidently been hit by a large truck. No accident report has been filed since then, however, and what happened must remain conjectural. Since the dummy weighs more than a ton, the truck must have been severely damaged.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Thomas H. Wrigley, 195 Lowell street, and Arlene Viola Wentzell, 18 Morton street, Brockton.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

After many unusual experiences through many years in the Army, Lt. Tim Hurley of Bartlet street is now fighting the Japs in the South Pacific. He's been waiting for a crack at the Japs since December 7, 1941, when, just a half-hour before the news of Pearl Harbor, he left Alaska for the states. He had been in the North since August 30, 1940, and he had learned to dislike the Nips even then, while stationed in the Aleutians and other parts of Alaska.

Since the war broke out, he's been teaching in Kentucky and New Jersey, but he's been trying to get back in the fighting fronts right along. Formerly of the cavalry and signal corps, he transferred to the AAF, and, at his own request, was recently sent to one of the larger Pacific island battle-grounds. Now, aboard a B-17, he's doing to the Japs what he's been dreaming of doing for three long years.

AT EASE!

Congrats to Harry Meadowcroft of the field artillery, a popular life-guard at Pomp's a few years back, now promoted to captain and transferred to Camp Robinson, Ark.

Speaking of Robinsons, Frank Robinson, CM3c, has been transferred to the Navy's Camp Endicott, R. I.

Pvt. Sam Lowry of the Vale now hangs his helmet at Camp Fannin, Texas.

Pfc Ed Thomson of the Infantry has gone overseas in the Pacific area.

A. C. Brad Holt has run into some tough luck lately, and will be confined to the Navy hospital at Memphis, Tenn., for several months. He incurred head injuries and a broken leg in a plane crash about a month ago, while night flying. The plane crashed from about 300 feet, and was damaged beyond repair. Brad's on the mend, though, and, it is hoped, will be back on his feet before long.

Ensign Mel Grover has arrived at his destination in the South Pacific and has been assigned to a ship. He does a little censoring "in addition to his other duties," a phrase that will strike terror into the heart of any commissioned officer reading this.

Pvt. Gus Connolly is one of those lucky servicemen living in hotels; he's at the Broadway Central in N. Y. C. for the time being.

Pfc Jimmy Coleman is with a hospital unit at Camp Stoneman, Calif.

Ernie Parsons, if we haven't mentioned it before, holds the rating of storekeeper third-class at Camp Peary, Va.

A. S. Bob Bryant is studying for the AAF at the University of Cincinnati.

Next time you're in Avon Park, Fla., say hello to Bob Keirstead, former Andover boy who made his home in Plympton before entering service last November.

Dave Markert, erstwhile Punchard footballer and later a committeeman for the school's alumni association, is with the Marine detachment at Cornell now.

Walter Markey, Flc in the Navy, has been transferred from Camp Peary, Va., to Camp Endicott, R. I., home of the SeaBees, in Davisville, R. I.

Nice letter from Col. Jack A. Fraser, Andover's highest-ranking serviceman, who is director of transportation at some South Pacific Army base. "Some of the names I read," he says, "conjure up some very pleasant memories of days at Punchard high."

Rudy Palenski, now a corporal in the quartermaster company of one of your favorite divisions, which we, unfortunately, shouldn't name here, has been transferred to Camp Campbell, Ky.

Sorry to hear that Lt. Warren Richardson has been hospitalized with an operation, in the Hawaiian islands. He's a lot better now, though.

Pfc John P. Jones, confined to the Naval hospital in San Diego in May after coming down with a malaria attack after fighting overseas, is back on his feet now, and is in a field signal battalion at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

A. C. Johnny Smith, son of Mrs. Mary Smith of 23 Barnard street, has reported to the Army air field in Greenville, Miss., for further flight training. This is the second last phase of his schooling before he gets his wings and gold bars in the AAF.

Congrats to Mitch Johnson of Central street, who, while serving overseas in a bomber squadron, was promoted to first lieutenant August 2.

1st Lt. Fred Stott of the Marines is home from Camp Pendleton, Calif., for a furlough with his parents, the Frederic W. H. Stotts of Phillips street.

Sic Eddie McFarlin of Elm street is home from Newfoundland for a 15-day furlough with his folks, the E. T. McFarlins. Eddie, incidentally, is the only seventeen-year-old seaman first-class in Newfoundland, possibly the youngest in the whole Navy. That's good going for a boy his age.

Congrats to Vin Mahoney, just promoted to sergeant.

Fund committee received a pip of a letter from Sgt. George "Jiggs" Gorrie this week; he had just got three Townsmans in North Africa, and had a few nice words about this column. Jiggs is now in the MP's, and he says that life is never dull with a "flatfoot." "I have traveled all over North Africa so much that I feel like an Arab — even to the complexion. At the present time we are policing one of North Africa's cities 24 hours a day. The weather is warm, and rain is unheard of...Before I close, I want to tell you the boys over here are in there pitching, and are determined to have a glass of beer in Berlin in the very near future." Jiggs, incidentally, suggests that we print the address of a fellow when we have an item about him in this column. The answer is that sometimes we could and sometimes we couldn't. If we said that Pfc Bill Jones was at "APO 26, Camp Geronimo, Oklahoma," for instance, it would be a dead giveaway of the Yankee Division's location. And some other units, like the Lawrence National Guard companies, do too much combat fighting to tell much about their whereabouts. And the enemy might get too much out of knowing that a local boy was doing radar work on, say, the "USS LST 435"...But if any serviceman wants to know where another one is, or wants the names of all Andover boys in a certain state, we can tell 'em.

From Camp Pendleton, Marine base in California, Sgt. Jim McKee of Cuba street writes the Fund committee that he got his birthday card and was quite grateful to know that Andover people took so much pains to remember him.

S. Sgt. Paul Pomeroy writes the committee that he got his birthday card, and that he's currently reading Townsmans regularly. He hasn't seen any Andover fellows since landing in Australia, but "I always have an eye open for one."

From a picture in a New York paper shown him this week, Police Officer Jack Deyermund thinks that his son, Sgt. Bill Deyermund, a Guadalcanal veteran, is heading for a new South Pacific battlefront. There was no mistaking Bill's smile in the picture.

Pfc Jim Sheridan, now home on furlough, will go back to a new station; he's in the Infantry, and will be at Fort Dix, N. J.

Nice letter from Lt. Grace Hatch, one of Andover's pioneer Army nurses. "No matter where we may be," the letter says, "it is always pleasant to receive the home town paper, and be able to read what's going on back there." Several months before the war, already in service, she was on duty in Iceland for several months, seeing Nazi planes on the convoy trips to and from the northern outpost.

Pfc Johnny Erving, who's studying meteorology with the AAF, has been transferred to Marshall Field, Kansas.

Al Carlson, formerly at Fort Washington, Maryland, has been assigned to Tabor Academy. He started his new duties there last Wednesday.

We knew that the Townsman sometimes traveled quite a distance, but we didn't know that it could go, not only way over to North Africa, but back again. A few weeks ago we had something in about Pete Loosigian of West Andover, which, in due course, reached Pete over in Africa. He showed it to a friend, who was so taken with it that he mailed it home to his sister, who lives in Watertown. She mailed it back to Pete's sister, Mary, who got it in good shape the other day...Pete spends a good deal of his spare time, in Africa, at the Red Cross clubhouse, which has excellent appointments. He inspects their servicemen's register regularly, but hasn't seen any Andover names yet.

Pfc Al White, recently landed in Iceland, sends us his new address so that he can keep on getting the paper up there. The trip up wasn't bad, but he was disappointed in not seeing any Eskimos. "However, I must confess that I look like one myself when I am all dressed up."

A. S. Ted Leland of the AAF has been transferred to Dickinson college, Penna.

Pvt. Roger Corriveau has arrived somewhere overseas with his artillery outfit. He's well, and hopes to run into some "of our little friends" soon.

Eddie Palenski of the Navy armed guard service reports that he picked up a couple of Townsmans when his boat docked in England recently, and, since he also got other mail there, he's really up with the news. The armed guard's a swell outfit, he says. His brother Stan, a Navy aviation radioman, is somewhere in the Pacific area.

Steve Hansen of 123 1/2 Main street has been graduated from the AAF pilot school at Moody Field, Ga., and now is a full-fledged pilot wearing gold bars.

Arthur Ness, radioman 3c, who has been in Sicily and Africa, got a nice surprise recently when he met Charlie Johnson (Navy) of Clark road, Pete Gervais of the Merchant Marine, and George Dwyer from Andover. They had a big reunion supper in that far-off country.

Pvt. George Hutchins of Camp Edwards weekended with the folks on River street.

Jimmy Morton, son of the James Mortons of Marland road, is home for two weeks from the Coast Guard academy in New London. He's just been transferred there after finishing his training at C. G. stations in Baltimore and North Carolina.

Congrats to Donald Wrigley, just promoted to fireman first class, according to word received by his parents, the Harry Wrigleys.

Chaplain David I. Segerstrom has written to Vale friends that he is now doing hospital work at his station, Camp Abbot in Oregon.

West Parish

Pvt. Karl Haartz of High Plain road is now located at Camp Claiborne, La., according to a letter received this week by Mrs. Haartz.

Ship's Cook 3c Bill Gilman, whose ship is in Charleston, So. Car., made a trip by plane to the family home last week.

Burton Reed of Argilla road has passed his able seaman's and lifeboatman's exams, and has left for active duty with the Merchant Marines. He was recently discharged from the Navy after 18 months' service, six months of which was with the Navy armed guard on merchant ships.

Pvt. Walt Miller of Camp Forrest, Tenn., is 10-day furloughing with his family.

Al Reed, Jr., aviation machinist's mate 1c, has completed a special factory course for crew chiefs at Douglas Aircraft in El Segundo, Calif., and recently had a ten-day furlough at his home. He's been assigned to a new aircraft carrier. ...While in California he dined with Joe E. Brown, Carole Landis and Louise Hoover of the movies. Al and Joe E. (who is a Lowell boy) were the only ones present from Massachusetts, so they struck up quite an acquaintance. (Drat it, who wants to be a civilian?)

Abbott Village

Pvt. Johnny Auchterlonie, son of the Alex Auchterlonies of Essex street, recently left California for an unknown destination overseas. His wife, who was residing with him in California, has returned to Lawrence.

Congrats to Cpl. John O'Hagan, son of the Edward O'Hagans of Baker's lane, who recently was awarded the medal for good conduct in the service. He's now at Camp Davis, N. C., and his brother "Red" got a chance to visit him a few weeks ago on a three-day pass from Camp Pendleton, Va. Two other brothers are also in the South, Jimmy and Pete being recently transferred from Camp Blanding, Fla., to Camp Robinson, Arkansas.

Both John and George Dwyer, sons of the Charles Dwyers of Pearson street, have received the rating of seaman first-class. John is down in Jacksonville at present, and George is somewhere in Africa.

You Need Nourishing Food in Wartime!

And if you're working in a war plant, longer and harder than you've ever worked before, it stands to reason you need hot, nourishing food at lunch-time—not the kind of a meal that comes in a lunch-box.

Our meals are prepared from menus made with an eye to vitamin content—and, of course, they're tasty, too!

DEATHS

Peter Shields, a well-known Lawrence resident who made his home at 11 Walnut street in that city for many years, died early Sunday morning at the Whiting rest home, after a brief illness.

His only survivor is a nephew, Frederick H. Shields of Kennebunk, Maine.

The funeral was held from a Lawrence funeral home Tuesday morning, with a high mass of requiem at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's church, Lawrence. Burial was in the Immaculate Conception cemetery in that city.

Daniel P. Moynihan of Buffalo, N. Y., visited with local relatives Sunday.

Donald Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole of 16 High street, left Monday for Northwestern university, Chicago, where he has enrolled in a Navy course of study.

W. B. Corliss has returned from a visit with relatives in Richford, Vermont.

William Biederman of Lowell street is quite ill at his home.

WEST PARISH

Observe Silver Wedding

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fitzgerald of 209 Shawsheen road offered them their congratulations Monday, the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Fitzgerald is a salesman for the Lawrence Gas and Electric company.

Lafalot Club Outing

Thirteen members of the Lafalot club enjoyed an outing Tuesday evening in Reading. Supper was served at 7:00, followed by a short business meeting.

Women's Union To Meet

The first fall meeting of the Women's Union of the West church will be held in the vestry Wednesday at 2:30. Important business is to be transacted, and a large attendance is desired. The hostesses will be Mrs. Leverett Putnam and Mrs. John D. Little, the latter of whom will give a brief account of the recent Reading forum.

Personals

The Carl Becklunds have returned to their Newark home after a visit with Mrs. Clara Chamberlain of Laurel lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thompson have returned to their home on Chandler road after a week's vacation at Camp Idlewild, Second Connecticut Lake, N. H.

Mrs. Alfred McFarland of Worcester has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Dean Hudgins of North street.

Mrs. James Dean and daughters have returned to their home on Kensington street after visiting in Maplewood, N. J.

The Herbert Carters of Lowell street are spending several days at Rye Beach.

WEDDINGS

Robjent—Brick

Miss Margaret Griscom Brick of Crosswicks, New Jersey, daughter of Arthur Brick and the late Mrs. Brick, became the bride of Lieutenant James Frederick Robjent, United States Army Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick Robjent of Andover, at a ceremony performed Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock. The scene of the wedding was the Friends Meeting House at Crosswicks.

The bride wore a white satin wedding gown with a sweetheart neckline inset with lace, a basque waistline, a bouffant skirt and long pointed sleeves. Seed pearls arranged in a design of hearts formed the Juliette cap from which her veil of bridal illusion fell. The veil extended beyond the train of the gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli blossoms and stephanotis.

Mrs. G. William Collier, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor and Mrs. A. Robert Brick, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Barbara Robjent, sister of the groom, and Miss Evelyn Anderson were bridesmaids.

A. Robert Brick, brother of the bride, acted as best man and the ushers included Charles B. Brick, Richard Wright and Lieutenant G. William Collier. Kenneth Brick, brother of the bride, now a member of the armed services, was unable to act as an usher.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride for members of the immediate families and friends, after which the couple left for a short wedding trip in New England.

Vesper Concert Planned At Opera Garden Sept. 12

The Opera Garden Players will give a vesper-concert at their grounds on Porter road a week from Sunday at 6:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend the program by an orchestra of twenty players from Lawrence, Andover, Methuen, Lowell, Groveland, Bradford, Georgetown and Middleton. A large chorus, made up mainly of singers from Andover, will take part also; persons interested in being in the chorus should telephone Horace Killam at 938-M.

Domenic Teoli, concertmaster of the Lawrence alumni orchestra, will serve in that post at the concert. The program will last a little over an hour and there will be no admission charge.

The same group, with the exception of those who have since entered the armed forces, have appeared in Gilbert and Sullivan operettas during the past two years, and did not want to let the summer go by without some form of outdoor musical festival.

PLAN GARDEN EXHIBIT

The 4-H club met last night in Ballardvale, at the home of its leader, Arthur Covell, to plan an exhibit of vegetables September 10 at 8:00 in the Union Congregational church vestry.

Members of the club, their families and friends, and members of the Friendly Guild of the church are invited to view the exhibit at that time and to be present at the awarding of prizes, donated by the Friendly Guild.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Biron of Lenox street, Lawrence, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn, to Edward F. Johnson, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Johnson of West Andover. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Biron, a graduate of St. Joseph's school, Lawrence, and Lawrence high school, is employed with the war price and rationing board in that city.

Mr. Johnson, a graduate of St. Patrick's school and Lawrence high school, is stationed at Key West, Fla., as a Navy instructor.

ENGAGED TO LOCAL MAN

Mr. and Mrs. George B. E. June of New London, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary-Hope, to Lieutenant John Andrew Higgins, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Higgins of Andover.

Second Lieutenant June is a dietitian with the medical department, A. U. S., now stationed at Fort H. G. Wright, New York. She is a graduate of St. Joseph college in Hartford, Conn.

Lieutenant Higgins is now on foreign service. He is a graduate of Pynchard high school and Northeastern university.

No immediate plans have been made for the wedding.

Baseball

Only two of the four Grenier runs were earned, errors, of which Andover had four, accounting for the other two. Burnham proved himself a one-man band in getting ten strikeouts, yielding only two passes, handling eleven fielding chances and finally, pulling the team out of a hole in the fifteenth by driving in the tying run.

Andover got a chance, in the game, to welcome back an old friend, Marty Hamilton, prominent Lawrence ballplayer and Boston Braves farm club infielder, who used to work in a local store. Marty played right field, and got a hit and a run.

Andover would have won the game in the eighth, and avoided the seven overtime innings, except for Grenier's vehement protest over a decision by plate umpire Ed Lefebvre. Dubois, local left fielder, was on third at the time, and, when Lefebvre called a balk on Grenier's pitcher, Dubois was waved in from third. If the run had been allowed, it would have made Andover the winner, 4-3, since there was no scoring in the ninth.

However, the visitors' manager threatened to pull his team off the field if the decision were allowed to stand. Base Umpire Fallon was called in, and he corroborated the calling of the balk. When it became apparent, after quite a heated argument, that the Grenierdiers would actually leave the field, Hal Wennik, manager of the local club, though convinced that the play had been called correctly, asked Lefebvre to reverse his decision in the interest of having the game end satisfactorily. Though the position was embarrassing to the umpire, he finally granted the request and Dubois was sent back to third.

Andover was playing Sunday without the services of two regular infielders, Artie Moher, who will not be available for the rest of the season, and Shortstop Walter Gartside, who was called out of town. They were replaced by Bill Glendenning, well-known Lawrence ball-player, and Joe Kozak, regular third-sacker for the Boston Navy Yard team in the Greater Boston Park Department League.

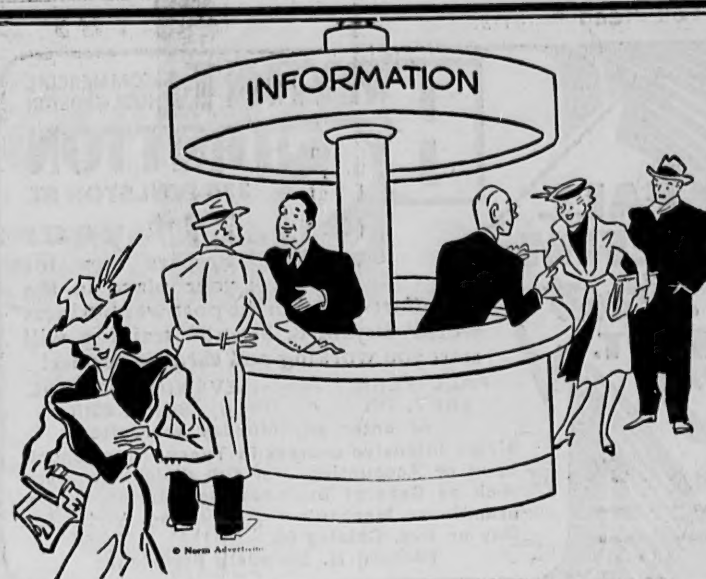

Eddie Miller, town team second baseman, played his usual steady and consistent game. Eddie, with a teammate, Charlie Foster, lives just over the Andover line, at Wilson's Corner.

Next Sunday's game will be with the Malden Twilights, who lost a close one to the locals a few weeks ago. The Twilights have won 29 and lost 7 so far, Richards, their star pitcher, having accounted for 16 wins against five losses. The local management has been advised that Malden has since strengthened its club immensely, partly because it has recently been in the playoffs with another Malden outfit, the City club, for the championship of the Boston Suburban League.

A good many Andover boys who used to play ball before entering service get home on furlough once in a while, and Manager Hal Wennik has announced that, whenever one of them is available, he will be given a chance to play for the local nine. Last week, Marty Hamilton, just home for a few days, was invited to play with the locals, and Phil Miller of North Andover would have liked to get in the game, but had an injured hand.

When the locals play a service team, the players line up in front of home plate before the game gets under way, and Manager Hal Wennik of the town team introduces them individually, telling a little about their service duties and their past sports experience.

Grenier Field was directed, last Sunday, by a pair of old-time Army men who know their baseball from the ground up. The coach was Chief Warrant Officer Lord, who returned only recently from Pearl Harbor, where he underwent the Jap attack. The manager, Lt. Roberts, has been in Army and Air Force service during the past 25 years. He was picked on the mythical All-Army team two straight seasons while playing in Panama and at Mitchell Field.

Hammond Awarded Degree at Haverford

Edmond Edward Hammond, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond E. Hammond of Porter road, was graduated from Haverford college, Haverford, Penna. receiving his B. S. degree, Saturday. This year's class was particularly small, since most of the students not taking advanced science courses have already entered service.

Hammond was one of the two members of his class being awarded highest honors, his major study being chemistry. The award was made by vote of the faculty on recommendation of the chemistry department, and is ordinarily given "only to students whose work has been more profound in a given field, and more extensive in scope, than the minimum required."

Wins Poppy Day Award

At the montly meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, held Monday evening in the post rooms, Miss Irene Shorten of Elm court was awarded a certificate from the State V.F.W. department for selling the most poppies in the annual Poppy Day in May. Rep. J. Everett Collins, a member of the post made the presentation.

EASTERN STAR MEETS

Resuming its activities in the new season, Andover chapter 187, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its first meeting of the fall Tuesday evening at 7:45 in Masonic hall. Charles McCullom, representing the Servicemen's Fund association, will address the members.

Schools

Cambridge will assume her new duties as teacher of physical education in the first six grades, and Mrs. Bertha Bevington will be in charge of the central school cafeteria, succeeding Miss Florence Gates. She will be assisted by a new home economics teacher, still to be appointed.

Taking charge of other classes formerly under Miss Gates will be Miss Charlotte E. Mothes of Hudson, appointed in June. The home economics department will thus have an entirely new staff, since Miss Frances Hoskins resigned in June.

Mrs. Louise B. McQueston of Elm street will be in charge of a second special room in the central system, made necessary by a larger number of pupils assigned to such study. She had been employed as a substitute in the Junior high school, but will now teach on a full-time basis.

West Center school will also have a changed staff, Miss Florence Eldridge having been transferred from there to the central system to take over the classes of Mrs. Eleanor Shannon, resigned. Miss Barbara Eldridge of North Andover (who is not related to the former teacher) will teach the first and second grades at West Center.

Transportation routes will be the same as they were in June, although adjustments will probably be made after the opening.

Much work has been done by the janitors during the summer to ready the various buildings for opening day. Besides this, various minor repairs have been made. Special painting has been done at the central plant, and the Bradley and Shawsheen schools.

A general meeting of all teachers and principals will be held Tuesday at the Memorial auditorium. Matters of professional and routine nature will be discussed under the direction of Superintendent Edward I. Erickson.

Two new secretaries will also begin their first school year in their new positions, Miss Theresa Nollet succeeding Mrs. Gladys Towne in the principal's office at Pynchard, and Miss Esther Bryant serving as Supt. Erickson's secretary.

Pynchard will concentrate on war courses and physical education this year; the only strictly new course will, however, be one in Spanish, which has been elected by about 30 pupils. Miss Marjorie Smith will be the instructor.

The radio code and basic electricity courses inaugurated last year will be continued, and there will be some lab work despite the difficulty in obtaining equipment. Basic mathematics courses will also be continued with the aim of making available to every Pynchard student such knowledge of mathematics as he or she will want on entering service. Arithmetic and the fundamentals of algebra and geometry, and their application to mechanics and electricity, will be included in the course.

Last year's heavy schedule of physical education courses will be continued this year, and organized sports will supplement the program.

Pynchard's enrollment this year is difficult to estimate in advance. There were 390 pupils when school closed, and the 80-odd seniors graduated in June should be more than balanced by an incoming sophomore class of about 120. The total enrollment may be 420, although there will probably be a number of students who will prefer to remain on their summer jobs rather than return to their studies.

There is still a vacancy in the home economics department, and the school committee is anxious to obtain a teacher with some experience to build up the course as well as instruct in other subjects.

The religious education program will also be inaugurated at the beginning of the school year. The Protestant inter-church committee is now working on plans for the subjects to be taught during the seventh period Tuesday. For Catholic students, instruction will be given in St. Augustine's school, by the priests of the parish and the Sisters of Notre Dame.

St. Augustine's parochial school will open nearly a week later than the public schools, on September 13. Extensive renovation work has been done there during the summer, particularly on the heating system; because of the difficulty in obtaining labor and parts, the work will not be completed until nearly a week after the usual opening date.

Enrollment figures at St. Augustine's are expected to be about the same as last year, but will not be known definitely until pupils are registered just before the school year opens.

Invasion Time Later

There is a meeting at the Memorial Auditorium next Wednesday night and if everybody goes who should go, the only ones left at home will be children and the infirm. It is a meeting to launch the Third War Loan Drive for Andover. Maybe before that time, or maybe a little after, our boys, Canada's boys and Great Britain's boys are going to land on the Continent of Europe in what must be an all-out effort to lick Germany. We wouldn't think too much of our Army if some of the soldiers, when the zero hour came, decided that they couldn't be bothered to be present at the launching of the invasion. Here at home we're in an Army, too, and anybody who stays home next Wednesday night is, in effect, a deserter.

Their invasion is our invasion; we must help by providing the funds necessary for the terrifically large amount of tanks, planes and ammunition that they will need. They have to go after the enemy; it is our job to go after the money.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor:

Elsewhere in this issue is full page publicity for the Third War Loan. I hope your readers will not regard it as advertising ballyhoo. What it is is the serious effort of the Andover Third War Loan Committee to ask for the help of our townspeople by the chief means at its disposal.

If your readers think $260,000 is a large quota for Andover they are just as right as they can be. But $260,000 for Andover is only proportionate to fifteen billion for the Nation and 783 million for the State. It gives us all an idea how big our task is and why the Committee must have help.

No one likes to be canvassed in their home; no one likes to do the canvassing. There are, though, a lot of things in this war we don't like but which must be done.

Men and their equipment win wars. Over a thousand of our men are in the service; this money is necessary to buy their equipment—ships, guns, planes and ammunition. What could be simpler or more urgent?

Let your readers think of those 1,000 Andover boys while they are hesitating whether or not to volunteer. The Treasury wants our excess cash and we are going to have to dig down this time, but remember, it is not asking for gifts; the Third War Loan is a loan and will be repaid.

JAMES GOULD, Chairman,
Andover War Bond Committee

This Sober Town

We were up in the Board of Health office the other day to see if Franklin H. Stacey, its secretary, wouldn't notarize a paper for us. We got to talking about notarizing in general, and Mr. Stacey mentioned that he has now been a notary public for a period of 30 years. The most interesting document he ever had to witness, in that time, was one drawn up by the late Warren K. Moorehead of

Phillips academy. Mr. Moorehead was one of the Indian commissioners for the Department of Interior at that time, and the statement Mr. Stacey had to sign involved a cool million dollars.

Phillips academy. Mr. Moorehead was one of the Indian commissioners for the Department of Interior at that time, and the statement Mr. Stacey had to sign involved a cool million dollars.

We glanced in some dismay at the list of Shawsheen playground's field day winners, published in last week's paper for, among the eleven-and-over girls age group, we found that a Patricia Kennett had taken first prize in all but two events, second in another, and reneged completely on the one remaining.

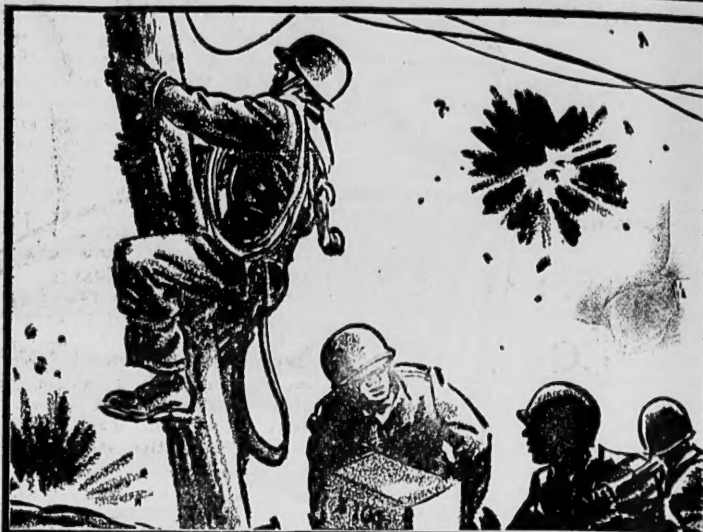

Later in the week, we had the good fortune to be talking to her, and asked her what happened in the one race where she was only an also-ran. "Well," she explained, "that was the shoe scramble, you remember. I was wearing tennis shoes, but the kids that beat me had huaraches on." We trust that settles that.

Young Heather MacKenzie, daughter of the John M. MacKenzies, last week, at the age of one year and ten days, made her first airplane trip. Just to make it a good one, she flew all the way to Canada, her mother having been called there by the illness of the child's grandmother.

By some coincidence, Heather entered and left Canada on the same day as Prime Minister

It was only right for the Japs to leave Kiska. After all, if they want "Asia for the Asiatics" as badly as they claim they do, they should take stock in our slogan, "America for the Americans."

When young Bill Golden of Carmel road entered the Marines, in which he's since become a corporal and quite a marksman, his parents were up against a situation that wouldn't have occurred if their name had been Smith or Jones or Llangwylliam.

They were shopping for a service flag, and it occurred to them that, except for the context, it would have been very nice to get a flag with a big gold star in it—a "golden" boy in service, as it were. Well, naturally they didn't get it, and, from all we can tell now, the Jappie that makes Bill Golden's star golden will have to be quite some Jappie.

PLANNING CHURCH FAIR

The executive committee of the annual Free church fair will meet in the pastor's study next Thursday evening at 7:30 to plan for the event, which will take place Thursday and Friday afternoon and evening, October 21 and 22.

Co-chairmen for the fair are Mrs. Carrie Buchan, Mrs. Leslie Christison, Mrs. Cecelia Derrah, Mrs. Roland Fraser, Mrs. Lily Harris, Mrs. Geoffrey Nicoll and Mrs. Jean Wood.

Mrs. Charles F. Smith has returned to her home in Philadelphia after visiting her mother, Mrs. Irene Cole of Elm street.

Miss Louise Sherman of Bartlet street is visiting in Ogunquit, Me.

WEDDINGS

Lundergan—Pasho

At a pretty ceremony performed at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in St. Augustine's church, Miss Mary Frances Pasho, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips E. Pasho of 35 Pearson street, became the bride of Charles J. Lundergan, ship-fitter second-class, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lundergan of Cambridge. Rev. Henry B. Smith, O. S. A., officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with a net skirt and fingertip veil with tiara. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

She was attended by her younger sister, Miss Helen Pasho, who was attired in a gown of blue satin with net skirt and ice blue net headdress in harmony. Her bouquet was of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Gail Higgins, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing a colonial gown of pink taffeta with a coronet of pink roses. She carried an old fashioned nosegay.

Phillips E. Pasho, Jr., seaman first-class, U. S. Coast Guard, brother of the bride, served as best man. The ushers were J. Phillips Higgins of Andover and Sergeant Robert C. Kelley, U. S. A., of New York and Andover. Both are cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pasho chose a dress of victory blue and silver, with a corsage of talisman roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with ribbon accessories and a corsage of coral gladioli.

The bride has been employed for several years with a local store. Mr. Lundergan has been serving in the Aleutians with a Navy construction battalion, returning from that area last week.

THE LAST ROUNDUP

Summer and Pine streets thundered with the hooves of long-horn cattle this week, quite in the style of the old West, and local police officers and farm employees got out their boots and saddles for a real "roundup."

It all started when John Bolten, well-known local industrialist, received a shipment of 27 purebred long-horn steers from Colorado for the stock farm he maintains on the old
Richardson estate on Elm street.
Last Thursday, all 27 escaped from their pens, and local police, with the employees of the farm, succeeded in rounding up 25 of them pretty quickly.

Two of them remained at large until Monday, however, meanwhile raiding several Pine street gardens. The "cowboys" sent after them returned with tall tales of the steers' quickness of foot and ability in the standing broad-jump, the two mavericks having cleared a three-foot fence without taking a running start.

The police were especially interested in rounding up the steers because they were afraid they might fall into the hands of a black-market operator. All's well that ends well, however;
two farm employees out searching for the missing cattle discovered them Monday in the Downing orchard at the top of Summer street. Now they'll roam the range no more.

ATTENTION, EVERY HOUSEKEEPER!

It's Labor Day, with the problem of supplying food for your family for three full days.

The only cuts of meat that I can guarantee to anybody and that will satisfy everybody for over the Labor Day holiday are:

Very lean fancy brisket — you can have any size cut of corned beef you wish — no limit to the amount.

Plenty of Smoked Tongue Plenty of Cooked Hams

Plenty of Fresh Dressed Broilers

ATTENTION: The following cuts of meat you will find very short: Pot Roasts, Steaks of all kinds, Hamburg, Lamb Chops, Pork Chops.

Be wise, avoid all your food problems for over Labor Day.

Buy Corned Beef, Cooked Ham, Fresh Dressed Broilers, Smoked Tongue — and your troubles will be over!

Committee Wants Servicemen's Names

The Servicemen's Fund association again reminds the townspeople that it is planning to send Christmas gifts to every local serviceman and women this fall just as it did last year. It is necessary that the mailing list be as accurate as possible in order that no unnecessary difficulties may arise in completing the mailing by October 1 if not earlier.

Parents or friends of any serviceman who has changed his address during the past year—and practically all of them have—are urged to leave the address at the Townsman Press or the town clerk's office, or with any member of the association.

TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOUR GAS WATER HEATER

Wartime restrictions on new gas water heaters mean that we must take care of those we have, so they will serve better—longer. Wipe off outside of heater occasionally. Clean the burner periodically with stiff brush and keep heating coils clean. Draw off a few quarts of water from faucet at bottom of tank about once a month. This removes sediment, saves gas and insures clean hot water.

AMERICAN HEROES

Thirty-four days were spent on the open sea in a rubber boat by three U. S. Navy men, Harold F. Dixon, Gene Aldrich, and Anthony Pastula. After enduring torturous days under the blazing sun, and freezing nights, these American heroes were finally rescued. In effect, they were kept afloat by a WAR BOND.

We need lots of these rubber boats, so buy as many War Bonds as you can. You've done your bit; now do your best!

BALLARDVALE

Carnival Greatly Enjoyed

The Ballardvale playground carnival last Thursday night, as in past years, proved a great success. Cakes, candies, roast corn, ice cream and other refreshments were on sale, and the white elephant table offered many attractive items of chinaware and clothing. The articles made by the children at the playground this summer were also attractively displayed. Another table had an exhibit of canned goods put up by the children, and flowers and vegetables arranged by them.

Pony and donkey rides proved attractive to the youngsters, and Harold Phinney furnished music for dancing.

The playground workers, Miss Catherine Sweeney, Miss Barbara Loomer and George E. Zink, put a great deal of time into the arrangements, as did the playground committee under the direction of Mrs. Lionel Buckley.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Walker of Keyport, N. J., announce the marriage of their daughter, Betsy Ann, to Ensign John A. Rogge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogge of Ballardvale road. The wedding took place at Miami Beach, August 11.

Births

A boy, last Thursday, at the O'Donnell hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Newcomb of Center street. There is one other boy in the family.

A daughter, Saturday, at the Lawrence General hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherry of Clark road.

Personals

Miss Agnes Wrigley of Marlboro street is vacationing at Hampton Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Crowther and son Donald visited relatives in the Vale over the weekend.

Miss Elaine Scott is visiting with Miss Joan O'Brien of Andover street.

Dwight D. Killam, organist at the Union Congregational church, will be at the console at the First Church of Christ, Bradford, Sunday, taking the place of his father, who is on vacation.

Stops Runaway Car, Prevents Train Wreck

Ainslee Schofield, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schofield of Tewksbury street, showed praiseworthy presence of mind Monday in quickly realizing that a serious accident would result unless a runaway automobile coasting backwards down Andover street hill, in that community, were stopped. He jumped into the moving car and brought it to a stop inches short of the closed railroad crossing gates in the center of Ballardvale, just as a Boston express came into sight down the track.

Returning from seeing relatives off on another train, young Schofield saw the riderless vehicle after it had gone about 30 feet. The car would undoubtedly have been wrecked itself, and might have derailed the train.

SUBMITS TO OPERATION

Mr. and Mrs. Everett M. Lundgren of 23 Elm street received word Saturday that their son, Sgt. Donald Lundgren, stationed at Camp Lee, Va., had undergone an emergency appendectomy there. Sgt. Lundgren was reported resting comfortably.

NEWS OF OLD ANDOVER

50 Years Ago. The Andover Band Orchestra was to furnish music for the grocer's picnic at Haggetts Pond... Dr. A. E. Hulme moved into his new office over Chandler's store... The tail end of the West Indies hurricane hit Andover and did a good bit of damage... Smith and Manning's and T. A. Holt's would hereafter be open three nights a week... A horse, becoming frightened by a street car on Main street, ran practically into McLawlin's hardware store... M. A. Clements and Peter D. Smith were going to the G. A. R. convention in Indianapolis... Practically everybody on vacation was headed for the World's Fair... The local cricket team lost to Lawrence, 34-21, and tied its deadly rival, the Merrimacks, 65 all.

25 Years Ago. Nineteen young men who had become 21 since the last draft enrollment were registered by Franklin Stacey, Frank L. Brigham, George A. Christie and Patrick Barrett... To cut down consumption of coal, the state fuel committee urged that house temperatures be kept down to 68 degrees. That's warm in this war... Blanchard Ralph left for Camp Upton... Mrs. George Dumont visited Mrs. F. H. Ladd, in Westport, Me... Rev. E. Victor Bigelow returned from his vacation... The James Moshers were vacationing in Sunapee, N. H... Robert McCoubrie was working for Lynn General Electric... Rev. E. H. Prescott of the Baptist church conducted the services at Martin's Pond... Alexander McLaughlin of Red Spring road was severely wounded in France.

10 Years Ago. The N. R. A. was forming a grievance committee to consider complaints from workers... Punchard would have 40 more pupils than last year... Dr. Thomas Kyle and Joseph C. Murphy submitted their names for the postmastership, there already being five other applicants... The gypsies finally consented to leave their Reading road camp, and traipsed over to Lawrence... Rev. Bienvenido Junquera, O. S. A., stationed in St. Augustine's parish for the past year, left to study in Washington, D. C... The playground concluded another season with its field day... William M. Mahoney was awarded a graduate scholarship at M. I. T... Marcelle Poirier gave a radio solo in Boston... Morton Savell, formerly of Shawshen, was going on Admiral Byrd's next expedition.

EXHIBIT HANDICRAFT

The children who attended handicraft classes at the Marländ school during the summer held an exhibition and reception for parents and friends last Thursday evening. A large display of useful and decorative articles showed the success achieved by the class. The summer kindergarten closed Friday.

The Samuel D. Berrys of High street and Mrs. Harold Hardy of Main street spent several days recently at York Beach, Me.

Miss Dorothy Brearley of Maple avenue has returned from a month's vacation at Hampton Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Lee of Boston have taken a suite in the Aberdeen Apartments, Shawshen.
